

Christmas Bitez

DJ - making snowman

JESSE - DJ's older sibling

Setting - outside. Two snowmen, one with no head on its body, head is on the ground. At start DJ is on stage working on snowmen. JESSE comes out.Ch

JESSE - DJ mom says to hurry up. She wants to get pictures while it's still light out.

DJ - Get me some red dye.

JESSE - A please would be nice.

DJ - Pretty please with spiced anchovies on top.

JESSE - Gross. (Off stage for a second comes back with a dye bottle.) Here.

DJ - thank you. Your assistance shall be noted in my memoir, Child of snowmen.

JESSE - Whatever. What do you need red dye for anyway?

DJ - It's the peace day resistance.

JESSE - You mean the piece de resistance.

DJ - I've heard it both ways.

(JESSE looks at head on the ground.)

JESSE - Do you need help putting that head on your other snowman?

DJ - He doesn't have a head.

JESSE - Then what is this big snowball that looks like a head for?

DJ - That's his head.

JESSE - I thought you said he didn't have a head.

DJ - He doesn't have a head on his body.

JESSE - I know that's why I offered to help you put the head on.

DJ - He doesn't have a head.

JESSE - What?

DJ - The snowman doesn't have a head.

JESSE - But you just told me this was his head.

DJ - Yeah it is.

JESSE - So do you want help putting it on or not?

DJ - No it doesn't go on his body.

JESSE - Then where oh great child of snowmen does it go?

DJ - Where it is.

JESSE - Why would the snowman's head go on the ground?

DJ - Because that's where it fell.

JESSE - You know that you can just pick it up if it falls off and put it back on right?

DJ - Your lack of knowledge of snowmen anatomy is astounding.

JESSE - This ball is perfectly round it couldn't have fallen from up there.

DJ - It didn't.

JESSE - But you just said it fell off the snowman.

DJ - because it did.

JESSE - That makes no sense.

DJ - I know it was such a tragic waste.

JESSE - it doesn't have to be a waste. I said I'd help you put it back on him.

DJ - I don't want it on him.

JESSE - Wait a minute this snow ball could not have fallen from any height. In fact it looks like it was just placed here.

DJ - How dare you. I did real math while utilizing string and the cat's laser pointer to determine the exact place my snowman's head would fall. I did not as you so crudely put it just place it there.

JESSE - You're telling me you set up some elaborate string and laser snowball catching system?

DJ - Do you know how ridiculous that sounds?

JESSE - Yeah I do. I personally would have just built the head where I wanted it.

DJ - That's exactly what I did.

JESSE - None of this explains why you don't want to put the snowman's head back on his body.

DJ - Because it fell off.

JESSE - You keep saying that like it makes sense.

DJ - It does.

JESSE - I think you've been out in the cold too long and it's messing with your head.

DJ - You're the only one out here trying to mess with my head.

JESSE - Okay I'll bite..

DJ - said the snowman. (Laughs.)

JESSE - Why did the snowman's head; that is on the ground now, but was not on his body; fall off his body, that it was never on, but was also on?

DJ - Zombies.

JESSE - What do you mean Zombies? That makes less sense than anything else you've said.

DJ - The Christmas zombies.

JESSE - What are Christmas zombies?

DJ - Come on everyone knows about Christmas zombies.

JESSE - Absolutely no one knows about Christmas zombies.

DJ - You're joking right?

JESSE - Me you're the one talking about Christmas zombies.

DJ - You know the zombies that help Santa make and deliver Christmas presents.

JESSE - that would be elves DJ.

DJ - oh Jesse I hate to be the one to break it to you. But there are no such things as elves.

JESSE - yes there are.

DJ - No "they" just made elf's up.

JESSE - " they" who?

DJ - Mom and dad and Santa.

JESSE - and why would "they" make up elf's?

DJ - because they knew your poor innocent mind couldn't handle the truth.

JESSE - and what exactly is this truth my poor innocent mind couldn't handle?

DJ - zombies.

JESSE - zombies don't exist.

DJ - that's rude and after I was kind enough to tell you the truth about elves.

JESSE - if zombie's exist then where are they?

DJ - asleep.
JESSE - and where do they sleep?
DJ - in their beds.
JESSE - okay I'll play along. Where are their beds?
DJ - in their houses.
JESSE - and where are their houses?
DJ - in the North Pole.
JESSE - oh yes because they live with Santa.
DJ - see I knew you knew about zombies.
JESSE - you are literally talking about elves.
DJ - it's sad how you cling to such childish things.
JESSE - so when are the zombies coming here?
DJ - Christmas Eve so they can help Santa with the gifts.
JESSE - naturally. But aren't you scared the zombies are going to eat you?
DJ - zombies don't eat people.
JESSE - yeah they do.
DJ - that's just what "they" want you to think.
JESSE - so what do zombies eat?
DJ - snowmen.
JESSE - you think zombies eat snowmen?
DJ - I don't think it. I know it.
JESSE - how do you know it?
DJ - because on Christmas morning there are always snowmen missing parts.
JESSE - that's your proof. Then how do you explain why snowmen have missing parts when it's not Christmas?
DJ - the sun. Gosh you really don't know anything do you?
THE END